What is Mid Brain Activation?

Mid Brain Activation is a program where children from age group 6-14 years are furnished to develop skills to sense visual stuff with their eyes closed. Mr. Makoto Shichida was the founder of Mid Brain Activation. He was a professor in Japan. He spent more than 40yrs to derive the method of MID Brain Activation. He received noble price for peace in 1998.

How does it work?

Mid Brain Activation program is held for 2 days, wherein children play games, dance, play puzzles, does brain gym exercise and a lot of things are being practiced. During the workshop scientifically with these activities we human possess a pineal gland which is located in the vertebrate brain which secretes two hormones melatonin and serotonin. The secretion of melatonin increases in the dark and decreases when it is bright. Serotonin is said to be very closely related to the evolution of species and has the capacity to increase the intelligence of the right brain. Since the midbrain is responsible for communication with the left and right hemispheres of the brain, the process of “activating” the midbrain will result in better communication with the left and right hemispheres. As individuals grow older, the brain has the tendency to automatically assign one hemisphere the brain to become more dominant in performing certain task (a process known as lateralization). This means we end up using much less of our brain that we actually could! The process of “activating” the midbrain reverses this trend and allows us to use our brain more efficiently, hence the improvement in cognitive abilities.

Another interesting effect of midbrain activation that it allows children to sense the visual properties of objects without actually seeing them with their eyes (blindfolded).

Midbrain Activation workshop is fun and it stimulates and motivates children's mind to achieve:

- Improved memory power
- Enhanced concentration power
- Higher self-esteem and confidence
- More articulate thinking style and sharper mind
- Stress management during revision and homework

After the Mid Brain activation workshop

Perhaps the most extraordinary skill of all in Mid Brain Activation is the Brain-Child Mental Reading. Upon the completion of a 2-day workshop, students will acquire this phenomenal ability where they can 'read' or 'see' with their eyes closed

Children are taught how to garner their concentration power during the workshop as this is a vital exercise to strengthen their mental power...

This skill may sound supernatural (to read with their mind, not eyes!!!), but it is merely a form of brain ability that many people possess.

IMPORTANT NOTE TO PARENTS:

Mid Brain Activation is a proven mind development program based on scientific approach and motivational-teaching method. There are no elements of religion or magic in the entire course work.

The benefits of mid brain after it has been activated are as follows:-

- 1) To balance of left and right brain functions (IQ and EQ)
- 2) Enhance the absorption capacity of the memory
- 3) The ability to enhance self-confidence and focus
- 4) Enhance the creation, planning and imagination
- 5) Emotional stability force
- 6) Are in a remarkable state of learning
